"In view of the present situation of the Serbian army our troops which had occupied the left bank of the river have been withdrawn to the right bank of that river. The movement was carried out without difficulty."

"Expeditionary corps of the Dardanelles: November 24 and 25 were characterized by activity on the part of our artillery, which succeeded in taking under its fire several Turkish guns of large caliber. An appreciable weakening of the fire of the enemy artillery resulted."

"Wounded Turks in very large numbers have arrived recently from Constantinople. On November 24 there were several engagements with grenades; on the 25th an explosion sent off by us destroyed the saps pushed forward by the enemy toward the center of our front."

SITUATION IN GREECE REGARDED AS GRAVE

London, Nov. 28 (2:20 a. m.)—The Greek situation is again disquieting. The Athens correspondent of Reuters' Telegram company says with reference to the new joint note of the entente ministers that optimism has given way to skepticism.

An Athens dispatch to Lloyd's News says that the note demanded a reply at the earliest possible moment. The interview of Premier Skoulafis with the king lasted an hour, after which the cabinet council discussed the various questions at issue for several hours and held that several of the points formulated are acceptable to Greece.

The situation, this dispatch adds, is regarded as grave.

Summary of War News of Yesterday

The strip of territory held by the Serbians along the western edge of their national domain has grown not only this under the steady pressure of the Teutonic allies. All along the northern end of the line the Austrians have cleared the region of King Peter's troops for some distance to the southwest of Belgrade, while the Germans have advanced across the Sava river and occupied the heights on the left bank across the Komova plain from Pristina.

To the south the Bulgarians are still further west. They are reported by Berlin as having crossed a line running through Skutla and Ljuboten, the latter place being about twenty miles east of Pristina, which lies close to the frontier. Skutla lying directly north of Ljuboten. The Bulgarian drive seems to threaten the complete shutting off of a Serbian retreat in a southerly direction, except through Albanian territory.

In south Serbia there are signs of renewed activity on the part of the forces opposing the Bulgarians. According to an unofficial report the Serbians have recaptured Kladovo, twenty miles west of Philipp and some twenty-five miles northwest of Monastir. The allies of Serbia may be able to give her substantial help in this area now, as it is reported that some 125,000 troops have already been sent to Salonika and that allied forces are continuing to be landed there in large numbers.

Athens reports that a new offensive has been sent to Greece by the ministers of the entente allies, outlining measures which it is desired Greece should take, in conformity with the preliminary agreement. A consultation between King Constantine and Premier Eleftherios and a cabinet meeting following the presentation.

On the Gallipoli peninsula the Turks have been on the offensive and cannot claim the allied forces on the peninsula. Constantine claims that by a surprise attack a considerable section of allied trenches near Ari Burnas were won. An attack by battalions and machine guns near Satalia was successful. It is declared, one monitor was fired in reply.

Neither Paris nor Berlin reports any change of position on the western front. Berlin also is silent as to operations in Italy, inactivity apparently ruling there.

SITUATION IN CHINA REGARDED CRITICAL

Washington, Nov. 27.—The situation in China is considered of enough importance by the American government to keep Brigadier General John E. Morrison, who now commands the American troops at Tien Tsin, at his station until spring.

General Morrison following his recent promotion ordinarily would have been sent to command. Until General Morrison is transferred to command the Philippine department next spring, he will remain in China. The American forces may be represented by an officer of high rank.

CRITICISMS OF CAPTAIN BOY-ED DEEPLY RESENTED

Ambassador von Bernstorff to Make Representations Regarding Utterances of U. S. District Attorney.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The German embassy, according to information for day from unauthorized sources, resents the accusations which are understood to have been made against Capt. Karl Boy-Ed, German naval attaché here, in the trial in federal court at New York of officials of the Hamburg-American line. It was said Ambassador von Bernstorff was preparing to file a vigorous complaint with the state department at the conclusion of the trial, asking at least for something in the nature of a retrial and possibly for an apology.

The German embassy, it is understood, has not yet decided just what form the protest will take. A copy of the newspaper report of the remarks of counsel for the government, the testimony given at the trial is understood to have been ordered from New York so that officials of the embassy may know exactly what has been said in the courtroom.

Boy-Ed Badly Treated.

The embassy is particularly incensed to determine whether Captain Boy-Ed was treated with the respect and courtesy which is his right as an officer of the United States. District Attorney Wood to the defendants in the case as "trading roughshod over the laws of the United States, treating them as if they were beasts of prey."

It was said by a person in close touch with officials of the embassy that it was felt that Captain Boy-Ed had been very harshly treated in the circumstances and that too much had been made out of his conversation with the press.

The embassy was further described as feeling that Captain Boy-Ed had done nothing that under the law he did not have a perfect right to do and that all things considered, he had done no more than naval attachés of embassies of the entente allies.

Resents Criticism.

As to the form of the embassy's protest, it is said much depended on the outcome of the trial. Should an acquittal result, the embassy might feel that in making complaint it would stand upon much firmer ground, as it could point out, incidentally, that the defendants had themselves been freed of the charges made by the government. Whether they are acquitted or not, however, the belief prevails in German circles that Captain Boy-Ed's name was needlessly brought in, and that needless things were said about him.

It is known that Secretary Lansing himself has for several days considered it probable that the German ambassador would make a protest. The state department takes the position that the debasing of funds did not mean that the naval attaché had done anything illegal.

Lansing Is Amused.

It has even been hinted that the state department officials are at a loss to understand why the German ambassador would make a protest. The case unless there was evidence that he directed the alleged falsification of manifests and clearance papers by officials of the Hamburg-American line. It is understood the belief in German-American circles is that if there was any falsification of papers, it must have been the result of an effort to prevent the enemies of Germany from securing information which might cause harm to come to her forces and ships.

MEAT IN PETROGRAD SCARCE, SAYS BERLIN

BERLIN, Nov. 27 (via Wireless).—In Tackertown, N. J.—Among the items given out today by the overseas news agency was the following:

"Russian newspapers state that for two days there was no meat in Petrograd. The police believed that the butchers had hidden the meat but found none."

"The president of Moscow university has communicated that the university will be closed in a short time because of lack of fuel, which is all the worse since thousands of students who sleep in the railroad stations and barracks for fuel, must stay in the university during the day."

PRESIDENT AND PART WITNESS ARMY-NAVY GAME

Chief Executive Takes Keen Interest in Contest and Explains Plays to Fiancee Who Is With Him in Box.

New York, Nov. 27.—President Wilson and his fiancée, Mrs. Norman Galt, and a large party of friends and relatives, came here today to attend the Army-Navy football game. They will return to Washington Monday.

After the game the president took Mrs. Galt to the apartments of Miss Gertrude Gordon, his friend. Miss Margaret Wilson, the house of friends of the Wilson family and then went himself to the home of Col. E. M. House, where he had dinner. Mrs. Galt, Miss Wilson, Miss Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Field Malone, and other friends were guests at dinner of John W. Wilson, a cousin of the president, and Mrs. Wilson. Tonight the president, Mrs. Galt and other members of the party were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson at a theater party.

The party arrived here shortly after 1 o'clock on a special train. At the station he personally saw to the placing of members of his party in his automobile and responded smilingly to the cheering from a crowd. Colonel and Mrs. House were there to welcome the president. The procession of automobiles went directly to the Polo grounds for the football game.

During the game the chief executive as he stepped from his automobile in front of his box, Secretary Daniels, who occupied the next box, welcomed the president and Mrs. Galt to the navy side. During the excitement of the game the president stood up and eagerly leaned forward. He continually explained the play to Mrs. Galt. Col. W. W. Harts, military aide of the president, and Mr. Cary T. Grayson, naval aide, both left the president's box early and went to the side lines.

Naval Cadets Salute.

At the end of the first half the president stood up, and accompanied by Mrs. Galt and the rest of the party, walked across the field. As he walked he waved his hat to them. The president immediately stopped and faced the navy side. The entire regiment of cadets from Annapolis stood at attention and saluted, and the president waved his hat to them. He cheered until he reached the center of the field where the Army cadets took it up and continued until he reached his seat. Secretary Daniels met him half way across the field and escorted him to his box.

The president smiled at the enthusiasm of the army cadets at the end of the play. He remained standing until the future officers, headed by their band, marched cheering around the field and then rushed from the sides toward their flag set up in the center.

The members of Mr. Wilson's party included Mrs. Galt, Miss Bertha Holling, her sister, Secretary and Mrs. McAdoo, Miss Margaret Wilson, Mrs. Anne C. C. Wilson, his niece, Josephine C. Wilson, his grandniece, Miss Helen Woodrow Jones, his cousin, John W. Wilson, his cousin, Miss Gordon, Secretary and Mrs. Grayson, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, acting secretary of the democratic national committee, Colonel and Mrs. E. M. House, Colonel Harts and Dr. Grayson.

Tomorrow the president will visit quietly with friends and relatives.

He will leave work on his next annual address to congress which he brought with him and wishes to complete by Monday. He also will discuss the European situation with Colonel House, who went abroad several months for peace. It is possible that he will see Brand Whitehead, American minister to Belgium.

WANTS REGULATION OF SHIPPING RATES

Washington, Nov. 27.—President Wilson is expected to recommend to congress in connection with the new ship purchase bill that power be vested in the proposed shipping board to regulate the rates and practices of all steamship lines which ply to and from American ports in much the same way as the rates and practices of railroads now are regulated by the Interstate Commerce commission.

Thus for the new legislation propose that the shipping board shall consist of the secretary of the navy, the secretary of commerce and three shipping commissioners. The rate making power to be asked for will cover the rates of foreign as well as domestic steamship lines and apply to shippers who originate in foreign countries but are destined to ports in the United States. Advocates of the president are convinced that such legislation would be constitutional.

Interstate Commerce commission has been examining ocean freight rates for several weeks at the suggestion of the president and it is understood to have collected much information which will be used in the expected fight over the ship purchase measure.

Engine Plunges Into River.

Quincy, Ill., Nov. 27.—The engine of a passenger train plunged through an open draw in the bridge over the Mississippi river here today. Engineer C. S. Concanan and Fireman Herman Atkins were killed. The stern of a dredgeboat had just cleared the end of the bridge when the engine fell.

Tuberculosis Is Helped

By what may be called the "natural" treatment. This is based on plenty of fresh air, a sufficient of well-cooked pure food and as large a measure of rest as can be had.

While it should never be neglected, this treatment does not always secure the desired results. Sometimes there is need for medication in order to bring about the requisite body resistance.

In such cases Eckman's Alternative has been used with a large measure of success. Indeed, in many instances, tuberculosis apparently has yielded to this preparation. In any case, it is worth a trial, and since it contains no opiate, narcotic, or habit-forming drugs, its use is safe. From your druggist or direct.

VILLA OFFICERS CANNOT SERVE WITH OBREGON

Carranza Commander Ready to Grant Amnesty to Deserters but Will Give No Commissions.

NOGALLES, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Inspection of prisoners who deserted the Villa ranks and fired at United States troops at various points along the international boundary near here before and after Gen. Alvaro Obregon's occupation of Nogales, Sonora, yesterday, took up the great part of Matias, Frederick Punston's time today.

Among those who elected to remain in the United States pending investigation by the immigration authorities were three Villa captives, Antonio Socas, Placido Flores and Federico Lyons. Seventy Mexicans were released and allowed to return to Mexico upon promise that they would accept the amnesty extended by General Obregon, by swearing allegiance to Gen. Venustiano Carranza.

Obregon Grants Amnesty. Although General Obregon announced that he would grant amnesty to all on the same terms, he let it be known that he would accept no former Villa officers within his own ranks.

Following the release of the seventy Mexicans, Major General Punston sent word to General Obregon through Mexican Consul Padua that if any of the prisoners released rejoined the Villa forces and eventually were captured by the United States troops they would be summarily dealt with.

Besides prisoners released and those held for the immigration authorities, there remained tonight more than one hundred wounded Villa soldiers who are housed in a schoolhouse.

Major L. W. Mix, of the Carranza forces, headed a committee of citizens and solicited funds in Sonora for a testimonial of appreciation of the gallant defense made in behalf of Nogales, Sonora, yesterday by United States troops.

It was decided at a meeting later that a portion of the proceeds would be used to purchase a wreath to be placed on the pier of Puerto Libertad, who died after being shot in the exchange of fire by United States infantrymen and Carranza cavalrymen under Colonel Cardenas.
